Course Description:

This informative and interactive workshop will provide participants with concepts and interventions to promote healthier relationships within family systems experiencing infidelity, betrayal, divorce, or the blending of families. Tools and resources from attachment-based models, such as Emotionally Focused Therapy and Connected Recovery Model will be shared and highlighted. Case examples and mindfulness techniques will be used or discussed throughout the course to illustrate interventions that promote healing, safety, and connection within couples and families.

Featuring: April Haley-Wilson, M.M.F.T., LMFT, is a licensed marriage and family therapist and owner of her private practice, Winds & Waves Counseling PLLC in Fort Worth, Texas. She also partners with Avanti Counseling and Consulting in Southlake Texas. April specializes in counseling couples, pre-teens, adolescents, young adults, and blended families. She is an active member of the Texas Association of Marriage and Family Therapy (TAMFT) and a certified Prepare-Enrich facilitator for pre-marital and marriage counseling and assessments.

Participant Learning Objectives:

- Assist couples in healing and reconnecting after infidelity or betrayal using attachment-based models.
- Learn interventions to combat shame, promote emotional safety, and communicate boundaries in couples.
- Help increase healthy communication and parenting skills with divorced parents and support children adjusting to two homes.
- Identify the challenges of working with blended families, understanding these family cycles, and helping grow family connections.
